Baltimore Lock Hospital.

DR. JOHNSTON,

Physician of this celebrated Institution, has Discovered the most Certain, Speedy, Pleasant and Effectual Remedy in the World for all

DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE,

Weakness of the Back or Limbs, Strictures, Affection of the Kidneys or Bladder, Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, General Debility, Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Languor, Low Spirits, Confusion of Ideas, Palpitation of the Heart, Timidity, Trembling, Dimness of Sight or Giddiness, Disease of the Head, Throat, Nose or Skin, Affections of the Liver, Lungs, Stomach or Bowels—Those Terrible Disorders arising from Solitary Habits of Youth—secret and solitary practices more fatal to their victims than the song of the Syrens to the Mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most brilliant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage, &c., impossible.

YOUNG MEN

Especially, who have become the Victims of Solitary Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of the most exalted talents and brilliant intellect, who might otherwise have entranced listening Senates with the thunders of eloquence, or waked to ecstasy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

MARRIAGE.

Married persons, or Young Men contemplating marriage, aware of Physical Weakness (Loss of Procreative Power—Impotency), Nervous Excitability, Palpitation, Organic Weakness, Nervous Debility, or any other Disqualification, speedily relieved.
He who places himself under the care of Dr. J. may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.

ORGANIC WEAKNESS,

IMPOTENCY, LOSS OF POWER,

Immediately Cured and Full Vigor Restored.
This distressing Affection—which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgences. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits, than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasures of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions weakened, loss of Procreative Power, Nervous Irritability, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constitutional Debility and Wasting of the Frame, Cough, Consumption, Decay and Death.

A CURE WARRANTED IN TWO DAYS.

Relief in Six Hours! No Mercury!
Persons Ruined by Ignorant, Trifling Pretenders and their Deadly Poisons, should apply immediately.

DR. JOHNSTON,

Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate of one of the most eminent Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business, study, society or marriage.
These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.
MENTALLY.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self-Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.
Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of Consumption.

YOUNG MEN

who have injured themselves by a certain practice, indulged in when alone, a habit frequently learned from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.
What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyment of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons must, before contemplating

Reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another is blighted with our own.

DISEASE OF IMPRUDENCE.

When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commiseration, till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings, by sending him to that "Undiscovered Country from whence no traveler returns."
It is a melancholy fact that thousands fall victims to this terrible disease, through falling into the hands of ignorant or unskillful PRETENDERS, who, by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, &c., destroy the constitution, and incapable of curing, keep the unhappy sufferer month after month taking their noxious or injurious compounds, and instead of being restored to a renewal of Life, Vigor and Happiness, in despair leave him with ruined Health to sigh over his galling disappointment.
To such, therefore, Dr. Johnston pledges himself to preserve the most inviolable secrecy, and from his extensive practice and observations in the great Hospitals of Europe and the first in this country, viz: England, France, Philadelphia, and elsewhere, is enabled to offer the most Certain, Speedy and Effectual Remedy in the World for all Diseases of Imprudence.

DR. JOHNSTON,

OFFICE No. 7 S. FREDERICK STREET

BALTIMORE, MD.,

left hand side going from Baltimore street, a few doors from the corner. Fail not to observe name and number.
No letters received unless post-paid and containing a stamp to be used on the reply. Persons writing should state age, and send a portion of advertisement describing symptoms.
There are so many Paltry, Designing and Worthless Impostors advertising themselves as Physicians, trifling with and ruining the health of all who unfortunately fall into their power, that Dr. Johnston deems it necessary to say especially to those unacquainted with his reputation that his credentials or Diplomas always hang in his office.

ENDORSEMENT OF THE PRESS.

The many thousands cured at this Establishment, year after year, and the numerous important Surgical Operations performed by Dr. Johnston, witnessed by the representatives of the press and many other persons, notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, besides his standing as a gentleman of character and responsibility, is sufficient guarantee to the afflicted.

STILL AHEAD!

HOFFHEINS' REAPER AND MOWER,

One of the Greatest Machines of the Age,

IS superior to any other Machine now in use, and will exceed any that will ever be introduced, having been thoroughly tried and given general satisfaction. I would now inform all those who intend purchasing Machines to call and examine for themselves. This Machine is noted particularly to excel all other machines in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability of work, in all kinds of grass and grain. It cuts lodged grain admirably, which is a great item in Machines to a farmer. It can be used as a hand-rake as well as a Dropper. It cuts 5 feet 2 inches in grain; 4 feet 10 inches in grass; has a steel cutter bar, with wrought iron guards; it can be used as a Single Mower as well as a Combined Machine.
A full trial of the Machine can be had.
Also, SHIREMAN'S SELF-DISCHARGING HORSE RAKE, and the great and well-known GRANT RAKE, the best rakes ever introduced.
We would also call your attention to the IRON DOUBLE SHOVEL PLOUGH, wrought iron frame, very light and strong, steel shovels, easily adjusted to run shallow or deep, and is neatly and tastefully made.
Also, THE KEELER AND EXCELSIOR FANNING MILL, the old Bamborough Fan improved, for many years a great favorite among the farmers of Pennsylvania. It is large and strong, has two cockle screens, and warranted to work perfectly.
Also all kinds of FARMING IMPLEMENTS always on hand.
Any person wishing to examine these machines can see them at the Battle-field Hotel, or at my residence, 3 miles from Gettysburg, between the Taneytown road and the Baltimore pike.

ESTEY'S CELEBRATED

COTTAGE, HARMONIC AND BOUDOIR ORGANS AND MELODEONS.

These instruments stand unrivalled by any thing found in this country or in Europe, as is admitted by all impartial judges. The most eminent Pipe Organ Builders and Performers, the last to discover excellence in reed Tone, pronounced them vastly superior to all others for exceedingly quick articulation and round Tone, the essential feature in instruments of this class. We invite the severest scrutiny and criticism of all.

PATENT VOX HUMANA TREMOLO.

This late and most wonderful invention (so acknowledged by all leading artists) will be found only in the Estey instruments. In attempting to describe the effect of this stop, we are at loss for language. Its beauties cannot be written, but must be heard to be appreciated. By this stop an ordinary performer can produce an effect which requires a life time of practice for an artist upon a violin. It entirely changes the reed Tone, giving the sympathetic sweetness of the human voice, making it so melodious and pure that it never fails to enchant the listener.

THE HARMONIC ORGAN

for Churches, Public Halls and Parlors has a powerful sub-bass with independent reeds, Harmonic attachment and Vox Humana Tremolo, and is believed to be the most powerful reed organ made, being nearly equal to a Pipe Organ of three times the cost.
All instruments warranted for five years.
BRASS BANDS supplied with instruments and music at reasonable terms.
A liberal discount allowed for Churches and Sabbath Schools.
Instructions given both in Vocal and Instrumental Music, at our rooms, and at pupils' homes, either to individuals or classes, on reasonable terms.

A SUMMER DAY.

There's a gaping rent in the curtain
That longs for a needle and thread,
There's a garment that ought to be finished,
And a book that wants to be read.
There's a letter that ought to be answered,
There are clothes to fold away,
And I know these tasks are waiting,
And ought to be done to-day.

But how can I mend the curtain,
While watching this silvery cloud;
And how can I finish the garment,
When the robin calls so loud;
And the whispering trees are telling
Such stories above my head,
That I can but lie and listen,
And the book is all unread.

If I try to write the letter,
I am sure one half the words
Will be in the curious language
Of my chattering friends, the birds.
The lilies bloom in the sunshine,
The roses nod and smile,
And the clothes that ought to be folded
And ironed must wait awhile.

I lie in the chestnut shadows,
And gaze at the summer sky,
Bidding the cares and troubles
And trials of life pass by.
The beautiful chestnut-blossoms
Are falling about my feet,
And the dreamy air is laden
With their odors rare and sweet.

The honey-bees hum in the clover,
The grasses rise and fall,
The robin steps and listens,
As he hears the brown thrush call.
And the birds sing to me softly,
The butterfly flits away—
Oh! what could be sweeter than living
This beautiful summer day!

THE PEARL OF CAMPAN.

One fine autumn morning I was rambling through the secluded valley of Campan, in the Pyrenees, accompanied by the excellent curate of the district with whom, in the course of my peregrinations, I had become acquainted, and beneath whose hospitable roof I had promised to spend the night. The scenery was wild and lovely beyond description; and having expressed my admiration of it I added a wish to know something of the inhabitants.

"They have hearts of gold and wills of iron," said my friend. "Many a touching and noble instance of generosity and self-denial have I met with amongst them. And for example, look at the man approaching us."

He was a fine looking fellow, of five or six and twenty, with a military air, and dressed in uniform. The lower part of his face was very handsome, and his dark sunburnt complexion suited well with his long mustache. I could not see his eyes, for the visor of his cap was drawn down so as to completely shade them from the light. Having exchanged a cordial salutation with the curate, he passed on, followed by a large dog with thick fur and enormous paws. The animal belonged to a breed peculiar to the Pyrenees, and remarkable for their sagacity and faithfulness.

"Now," said my companion, as soon as the soldier had passed out of hearing, "while we walk along, I will tell you a true story of which you have just seen two of the principal characters."

Juan Trigoyen was born in the heart of these mountains, where the peasant has his choice of two occupations—that of shepherd or a hunter. Juan chose the latter, as his father had done before him, and a hazardous pursuit it is. Not merely has the mountain hunter to scale all but inaccessible precipices, and to brave the fury of famished bears and wolves, but he is constantly exposed to be swept away by a torrent or buried beneath an avalanche. To this latter peril Juan's father had fallen a victim. Crushed beneath a mass of snow, he perished, leaving his son no other heritage than his dog, his gun and his grandmother Gertrude, an old woman, unequal to the task of supporting herself. Juan, at this time a fine young lad of eighteen, loved his grandmother tenderly. She had always supplied to him the place of his mother, who had died in giving him birth, and now, with a courage and resolution beyond his years, undertook the sole charge of their maintenance. He had been early trained to the chase, and success now crowned his efforts. The number of lizards, eagles and bears struck down by his hand testified the sureness of his foot and the steadiness of his aim.

Thanks to the value of these spoils, Gertrude knew no privation; but she trembled for the safety of her beloved child, and often said to him, with tears in her eyes: "Stay at home to-day, Juan; you will perish some time or other like your poor father; and what should I do left alone, without any one to love in the world?"

Then the lad would answer, "Calm yourself, mother. Providence will watch over me for your sake."

Thus did Juan work hard during the week for his own and his parent's support, and on Sunday I saw them entering my little church, Gertrude leaning on the arm of her handsome boy, and both joining in the prayers with the utmost devotion.

Two years passed on, and Juan was returning one day from Bangeres, whither he had gone to dispose of some game; it was winter and the north wind blew piercingly cold; but the young hunter stepped on briskly, whistling a lively tune. Suddenly a cry of distress struck his ear, but he knew not whence it came.

"On, Cæsar," he cried, trusting to his dog's sagacity, "seek it out, boy!"

The docile creature set off in the direction of a thick pine grove, and his master followed; the cries became louder, and Juan recognized the voice of a female in distress. He redoubled his speed, still preceded by the dog. At length he reached an open space, and there was Cæsar struggling with a wolf, while on the ground lay a woman, with a huge she wolf in the act of fastening on her neck. With a shout Juan rushed forward, and at the sound the fierce creature raised her head, and fixed on him two eye balls glowing with rage and anger. Without a moment's hesitation the intrepid hunter seized her by the throat with one hand, and thrusting the other into her mouth grasped her tongue, and dragged us with an iron vice. After a fearful struggle he succeeded in dashing the strangled beast on the ground. This done, Juan looked around to see if his faithful ally had need of assistance. No; his antagonist also lay dead, and the hunter had time to attend to her who lay motionless on the ground, having fainted from excess of terror. Her deliverer raised her gently in his arms, put back the rich brown hair that had fallen over her face, and perceived that she was a young and very lovely girl. Taking a handful of snow which lay on the ground, he rubbed it on her temples, and then succeeded in putting some bits of ice in her mouth. By degrees she revived, her eyelids unclosed, and she drew a deep sigh.

"Where am I?" she murmured.

"Safe with a friend."

"It was you, then, who saved me."

"Rather, it was Providence who employed my hand."

She thanked him with a look far more eloquent than words; and then, with a confiding simplicity, as she still felt weak, asked him to let her lean on his arm as far as her home.

"I was going to town," she said, "to sell some milk, when those dreadful wolves attacked me, upset my pitcher, and but for your timely assistance and that of your good dog, would surely have devoured me."

The conversation thus commenced did not flag. Juan soon learned that Margaret lived in the hamlet of Campan; that she was an orphan and had no property, save a small cottage, one cow and some hens. She managed to support herself with the profits of these animals and her spinning. Her perfect candor and her innocent beauty charmed the honest heart of Juan; he thought that, were he possessed of all the treasures in the world, he would like to lay them at Marguerite's feet. On entering the village, the news of their adventure spread quickly, and it was easy to see, by the consequent excitement, how much the young girl was beloved by her neighbors. Both young and old rushed forth to meet her; Juan was overwhelmed with thanks and praises; nor was poor Cæsar by any means forgotten.

"Adieu, Marguerite," said Juan, when he had accompanied her to the cottage door. "May I sometimes come to see you?"

"To whom should my door be open, if not to my deliverer?" said the girl innocently, at the same time extending her hand to Juan. He pressed it to his lips, and hastened away home.

When he reached home, he found Gertrude uneasy at his prolonged absence. "Oh, my child!" she cried, "where have you been, and what are those stains of blood upon your dress?"

Juan smiled. "Don't be uneasy, mother, this blood is not mine, but that of an enemy I killed." And he told her all that had occurred, not concealing the feelings of admiration and love which he felt for her whom he had rescued.

"Thank God, my child," said the old woman, "that your choice has fallen on so worthy an object. I often heard the beauty and virtuous industry of Marguerite commended. She is called by the neighbors the Pearl of Campan."

It never occurred to the affectionate grandmother that the fair girl could possibly be insensible to the attractions of her boy; and indeed, the event proved that she was not far wrong. Marguerite was of too innocent and frank a nature to play the coquette with him who had risked his life for hers, and the preliminaries for their marriage were soon arranged.

On the morning preceding that on which their bans were to be published the sound of a drum was heard in the peaceful Valley of the Campan; and the prefect of the district proclaimed the drawing of conscripts for the army. Poor Juan! his was amongst the first of the selected names, and at the moment the shock nearly stunned him. However, he had been taught not to shrink from his duty, and having calmly made the needful preparations, he drew his betrothed aside, and said, "Listen to me, Marguerite. You promised to be mine; I am going away for some years, perhaps forever; it is right that you should be free—I give you back your vow."

"And I," said the girl, "will not take it back. Whether our next meeting, Juan, be here or in that better world to which, I trust, we are both looking, I will never marry any one but you."

The young man pressed her hand in silence. "But my mother," he said, at length while the unwonted tears rolled down his cheek; "she is old, infirm, unable to work for her support—"

"Your mother, Juan," interrupted Marguerite, "is she not henceforth mine? So long as God gives me strength to work our mother shall not want a home."

And so with mutual blessings and fond tears, they parted.

Cæsar followed his master to the wars, and Gertrude, on the day of Juan's departure, took up her abode in Marguerite's cottage. The old woman managed the domestic affairs, while the young one carried her milk, butter, eggs and poultry to market. In the evenings, as they both sat at their spinning wheels, the conversation naturally turned on Juan: "Where is he now; what is he doing while we are speaking of him?" Sometimes their anxiety was assuaged by the arrival of a letter filled with hope and tenderness, but at length one came which increased their sorrow. It bore the stamp of Algeria. Juan announced that his regiment had just landed in Africa and was immediately to march to Zaatcha, where a number of insurgent Arabs had entrenched themselves. Some sharp fighting was expected, as the rebels were known to be desperate. Under this afflicting intelligence the two women found their only consolation in religion—in committing their dear one to the care of God. Every day on her way to town, Marguerite was accustomed to pause at the spot where she had first met her betrothed, and where, during the happy days of their courtship, he had raised a rustic seat; she used to kneel beside that simple memento, and pray fervently, nor did she arise and go away without feeling strengthened and encouraged.

Every evening on her return, her first question to Gertrude was, "Has Juan written?" And the old woman would silently shake her head with a despairing gesture, which would seem to imply, "Juan will never write to us again!"

One day as Marguerite was returning from Bangeres, she was overtaken by a violent thunder storm. There was no place of refuge nearer than her own cottage; and with her garments dripping, and her eyes nearly blinded by the driving rain, she hastened toward it. What did she see! A blazing, lightning-stricken pile, surrounded by a terrified crowd of villagers.

"Mother!" cried Marguerite, darting onwards, "where are you?"

A cry of agony from within the burning cottage was the reply.

"Mother, courage! I'll save you or die with you!" And before the astonished spectators could detain her, she rushed through the flames. A minute, which seemed an age of agonizing suspense, elapsed, and Marguerite reappeared, dragging forth her pious burden, and formed with her own body a rampart against the flames. Scarcely had she allowed the old woman to fall into some of the arms ready to receive her, when the heroic girl sank down herself, inanimate.

"When she opened her eyes," continued the curate, "she was in an apartment in my house, whither I had caused her to be carried. Gertrude and I had watched for three days and three nights by her bed, awaiting the moment of returning consciousness. Her first sensation was that of torturing pain in her face. She raised her hand to it, and felt that it was so enveloped in bandages as to leave only the mouth and eyes free. A cry escaped her lips. 'Oh, I remember the storm; the flames; I am disfigured for life—is it not so?'

Gertrude and I were silent. It was but too true; the devouring element, leaving her body, protected by her wet clothes, untouched, had seized on her face. The beauty of feature and delicacy of complexion which procured for her the graceful sobriquet, was totally destroyed.

Until the bandages were removed, which the surgeon did not as yet judge it prudent to do, he could not tell the extent of the disfigurement, but that it would be very great was certain. Our silence, and the tears which we could not repress, acquainted the poor child with her misfortune. She raised her eyes to Heaven with a touching expression of resignation. "It is thy will, my God," she said, "but let not Juan see me thus."

"In ten days see yourself." She handed a letter to Marguerite, which the latter read with eagerness. It was written by the hand of one of his comrades, and informed them that Juan, who had received a severe wound at the seige of Zaatcha, was now convalescent in hospital; had obtained, as a reward for his services, a cross of merit, his discharge and pension, and would be with them in ten or twelve days at the furthest.

Having finished reading the letter, Marguerite fell into a profound reverie, from which neither Gertrude's fond caresses nor my attempts at consolation could arouse her. "Oh, sir," said she, at last, "it is not for my own sake that I value beauty, but—but how can Juan love me when he sees me in this state?" At that moment the surgeon entered, and having felt the patient's pulse, he began silently to remove the bandages. As soon as Marguerite felt that her wounds were exposed she asked for a mirror.

"Not yet my child; not to-day," said the doctor. She tried to raise her hands to feel her face. "Hold her arms down," cried the surgeon to the old woman and myself. We did so, involuntarily turning away our eyes from the sight of those swollen and mutilated features, once so lovely.

Marguerite saw and understood our movement. "Is it not so, sir?" she said to me, calmly; "will it not be impossible for him to love me?"

Nine days passed on; the wounds were regularly dressed, and were now nearly cicatrized. The tenth day was that of Juan's expected return; but no one ventured to speak of it. Early in the morning Marguerite rose, and prepared to go out, saying that a walk in the fresh air would do her good. I offered to accompany her.

"No, thank you, sir," she said, "my good mother alone will come with me." And with one hand slightly leaning on Gertrude's arm, while the other held a small package, she went out. They walked slowly towards Juan's rustic seat, but very slowly, for the convalescent was yet very weak.

Arrived there she knelt down and, after a short, silent prayer, turned to Gertrude and embracing her, said: "Bless your daughter, dear mother, for the last time; you will never see her again."

"What do you mean, my child?"

"The truth. I am going away. You will say good-bye for me to him, mother, and tell him that it is my very love for him that forces me to fly."

"But, dear one," said Gertrude, detaining her, "you wrong our Juan; he has a noble heart, and he will love you all the better for those noble scars, when he hears that it was in saving me from a dreadful death that you received them."

"He has a noble heart," replied the girl; "and I know he would marry me, and try to make me happy; but how could I endure his averted looks—his sorrow! No, no! I shall suffer much less in suffering alone."

Just then a well-known bark was heard, and a large white dog rushed out of the woody path. "Cæsar," cried Gertrude, "where is your master?"

"Here he is," replied an agitated voice, and holding one end of a cord, of which the other was fastened to Cæsar's collar, a soldier appeared. "Mother! are you here? Where is Marguerite? Why don't you come and embrace your poor blind wanderer?"

"Blind!" exclaimed Marguerite; and fixing her eyes on her betrothed, she saw that his eyes were bandaged. I cannot describe the emotions of all three; suffice it to say, that after an incredible number of embraces, Gertrude and her two children returned to my house, and we passed a delightful evening.

Here the curate stopped and I thought his tale was ended.

"Well," I said, "I suppose the blind warrior and his betrothed—still, in his imagination, blooming in all her youthful charms—were speedily united?"

"They were," he replied. "It was I who united them; but I have somewhat more to tell you of them. Their cottage, by the willing aid of all the villagers, was soon rebuilt, and they moved into it. Their circumstances were very comfortable, and Juan supported his infirmity—caused, he told me, by the explosion of a mine—with the utmost cheerfulness. His tenderness for his wife seemed to increase every day, and yet she was evidently not happy. Her old friend, the doctor, visited and prescribed for her, but without avail.

"My art is at fault," he said to me. "Her body suffers, but the seat of the disease is her mind. Do you try to discover what the secret which weighs on her may be, or I cannot answer for her life."

Alas! how could I apply the consolation of religion to a case of which the sufferer persisted in keeping me profoundly ignorant? Once she seemed on the point of opening her mind, but Juan entered the room, and she was silent; nor could I ever afterwards induce her to speak freely. Meantime, her bodily condition became very precarious, and Juan, who was now aware of her danger, scarcely ever stirred from her side. Old Gertrude, as you may suppose, was scarcely less anxious about her.

One evening, when I was in the cottage, the doctor arrived, and having examined his patient, pronounced that unless some powerful reaction took place, she could not long survive. How solemn were the moments that succeeded this announcement! Poor Juan grasped convulsively the hand of his wife, while large tears streamed from under his bandage.

I began to exhort her on the subject of religion; and when I spoke of her Maker, she exclaimed: "Oh, I have great need of mercy, for my conscience is burdened with a heavy load. Listen," she continued, addressing us all, "and tell me whether I can hope for forgiveness.

Grouped around her bed, we waited in silent astonishment. Marguerite had raised herself into a sitting posture; her wasted arms, her disordered hair, her sunken features, her hollow eyes gleamed with a light like that of a lamp kindling up before it is extinguished forever, lent an air of indescribable solemnity to the scene. Placing her hand in her husband's, she said: "Juan, you remember, when we separated, the promise we made of mutual fidelity? My heart was yours, and yours was mine. Well, the terror of losing that heart caused me to commit a grievous sin. I pictured you to myself with shocked, averted looks at the first sight of her who was once named the Pearl; and in the agony, the delirium of the moment, I cried to Heaven, 'O, God! either give me back my beauty or take me from his eyesight.' The moment the selfish, impious prayer was uttered, I bitterly repented, and would fain have recalled it; but too late! Juan, the wish was granted, and I have never since known one moment's happiness."

"What!" cried her husband, "and is this the secret, Marguerite, which is near killing you?"

"It is."

"Then live, dearest, and be happy; your prayer was not answered."

And tearing off the bandages which covered his eyes, he fell on his wife's bosom and clasped her in a long embrace.

It appeared that the blindness which had fallen on Juan was of a temporary nature. Under the skillful treatment of our friend, the surgeon, whom he privately consulted, the power of vision began slowly but surely to return. Having, however, heard from his grand-mother the whole history of Marguerite's horror at the idea of beholding her disfigured face, he generously determined to conceal from her his cure, at least for a time. Now, however, it was suddenly revealed. Was it too late? The doctor motioned us all away from the bed, took his patient's hand and felt her pulse; a hopeful smile played on his benevolent lips.

"My friend," said he, turning to me, "the age of miracles has not ceased—Marguerite is cured!"

Here the good man ceased, and, after a pause, I asked, "And was Marguerite in reality so much disfigured?"

"You shall judge for yourself?"

We walked on and soon reached a neat and pretty cottage, covered in front with a luxuriant vine. An old woman sat near the doorway spinning, and placed on a low chair by her side, a young woman was nursing an infant. Her figure was remarkably graceful, and her face, although not handsome, was by no means repulsive. It was easy to distinguish amid the seams and scars which marked it the vestiges of great beauty. There was a touching expression of serene tenderness shed over her features, as she looked on her child, which in my eyes amply compensated for the want of regular comeliness.

The curate advanced. "Good morning, Marguerite," he said.

"Good morning, sir," she answered, looking up with a beaming smile.

"How is the baby to-day?"

"As well as possible," said the happy mother, holding up and showing her nursling's rosy, dimpled cheeks.

"Well, Marguerite," said the good old man, taking the innocent little creature in his arms and kissing its tender forehead, "I could fancy this is yourself as I remember you on the day that I baptized you. Come, the valley of Campan has not lost its Pearl; it is restored in the person of your lovely little daughter."

A LIVELY FALL.—A Kentucky paper tells the following: "At the Planter's house, the other night, one of the guests sat down in the third story window to 'cool off,' and falling asleep, fell out. In his descent of sixty feet he went through the roof of a woodshed, badly shattering the whole structure, alighted on a porch, the floor of which he broke, and rolling over, knocked over and badly twisted a tin gutter pipe. The police on that beat heard the noise, and thinking that a safe had been blown open, rushed to the spot, when they found the gentleman rubbing his eyes and yawning as if he had just awoke from a refreshing sleep. He invited the officers to take a drink, and after putting about four ounces of old Bourbon down his gullet, he retired to rest for the night—this time to his bed. The next morning he appeared at the breakfast table as if nothing had occurred, paid his bill after breakfast, and took his departure."

BOSTON has a tulip tree in full blossom which covers a quarter of an acre, and contains fully one thousand tulips.

FORMATION OF DEW.

When children go abroad in a clear morning, they often find all the grass covered with drops of water, and sometimes the water even drops from the trees, though the ground is dry, and there has evidently been no rain in the night. They soon learn to call these drops by the name of dew; but whence and how comes dew on the grass is a puzzle. Well, there is always more or less of moisture in the air. If there is a cubic inch of water in a cubic yard of air, then the air is said to be thoroughly impregnated or filled with water. In such a case, the smallest amount of cold or absence of heat in any thing will cause little drops of dew to settle on the surface. By a cubic inch or yard is meant a square space measuring one inch or yard on every side. If you take a block one inch long, one inch thick, and one inch high, it will be a cubic inch. Then if you take a box of the same form and size, and can fill it with water extracted from a vessel filled with air, and of the same form as the box, but measuring yards instead of inches, you would say that there had been a cubic inch of water in a cubic yard of air. Almost any substance will have more or less dew on it when the air is in such a state because few substances are warm enough to prevent it. Then just in proportion as there is less water in the air must a body or substance be cooled to produce dew. The blades of grass and the leaves of trees being so thin are quickly cooled by the air when the sun goes down. They radiate or throw out the warmth that is in them, and soon become cooler than the air is, and then the water that is in the air begins at once to settle on them, and in the course of a clear night will collect there enough to form the "dew-drops." There is never any dew on the bare ground, because it never gets cooler than the air, so as to cause the moisture to settle on it; nor of a cloudy night, because the clouds radiate heat to the ground, which prevents the leaves and grass from cooling, as a cloudy night is always warmer than a clear one would have been from the same cause. The dew does not fall on the leaves like rain, but collects from all directions, and it is not seen on the under-side, because that side is so porous as to absorb or drink it up, as a sponge does water.—Little Gleaner.

A RAT CHARMED BY A DOG.—Young ladies who keep pet poodles think them charming creatures, no doubt, but the "charmingest" canine that we have heard of lately lives in a respectable family in Oswego, N. Y. Recently the kitchen girl saw this dog seated on his haunches, with one fore-paw lifted, eyeing a rat under a cup-board, in some room connected with the house. The rat also had his eyes fixed upon the dog, and after watching them a few moments, the girl, thinking it strange, called some of the family, who, interested to see how this curious circumstance would turn out, came and stood quietly by.

For half an hour these animals maintained the same position, being some six or eight feet apart. At the end of that time the rat slowly and trembling with fear, began to approach the dog, their eyes still fixed on each other immovably. Continuing to creep up, when within a couple of feet the dog sprang, and catching the rat, quickly disposed of him.

It was afterwards discovered that the hole in the wall through which the rat came was immediately back of where he was first seen. This occurrence is vouched for on the most reliable testimony, and is one of the most singular instances of charming on record.

A PITHY SERMON TO YOUNG MEN.—You are the architects of your own strength of body and soul. Take for your motto, self-reliance, honesty and industry; for your star, faith, perseverance and pluck; and inscribe on your banner, "Be just and fear not." Keep at the helm and steer your own ship. Strike out. Think well of yourself. Fire above the mark you intend to hit. Assume your position. Don't practice excessive humility; you can't get above your level—water don't run up-hill—put potatoes in a cart over a rough road and the small ones will go to the bottom. Energy, invincible determination, with a right motive, are the levers that rule the world. The great art of commanding is to take a fair share of the work. Civility costs nothing and buys everything. Don't drink; don't smoke; don't swear; don't gamble; don't steal; don't deceive; don't tattle. Be polite, generous, kind. Study hard, play hard. Read good books. Love your fellow men, love your country and obey the laws. Love truth; love virtue. Always do what your conscience tells you to be a duty, and leave the consequence with God.—Ex.

PITTSBURG, Pa., has been astonished by the curious freaks of a gentleman who has heretofore been one of its most economical citizens. First he gave a free lunch at a tavern to a large crowd, the expense being about $75. Next he contracted for a splendid team for $750. Then he hired four men to drive around with him, paying them $5 per day each. His next step was to engage a band of music at $25 per night to serenade him every evening. Finally he bought $75 worth of boquets, and distributed them among the pretty girls on the streets, and bought some dozens of wine, saying he was going to have a grand celebration. Then his friends clapped him in the mad-house.

MR. PETER BAYNE has recently given, in the Watchman, some interesting statistics as to Spurgeon's literary work. He says: "Mr. Spurgeon is about thirty-six years old, and preached 1,000 sermons before he was twenty-one. For the last five years 25,000 copies a week of his sermons have been sold. Not less than 14,000,000 copies have been sold in England, besides 300,000 copies in America. From one to three volumes have been published in Welsh, German, French, Swedish, Dutch and Italian; besides separate sermons in Gaelic, Tamil, and the Maori language of New Zealand.

THE following is a verbatim copy attached to the return of a postmaster in Shawnee county, Missouri: "I hereby certify that the four going A Counte is as near Rite as I know how to make it. If there is any mistake it is not Dun a Purpers."

COUNTY COMMITTEE.

The Democratic County Committee will meet at the [illegible] in Gettysburg, on SATURDAY, the 30th day of JULY inst., at 10 o'clock A. M. [illegible]

WM. McCLEAN, Chairman.

[illegible]

DAILY and hourly the people are rallying to the support of the White Man's Party.

INCOME TAX.—The United States Senate, the other day, took a very singular freak, and restored the income tax, fixing the rate at 2½ per cent., to continue two years longer, with $2,000 exempted. This shuffling action of Radical Senators is severely denounced by the press of all parties.

ANOTHER ADMINISTRATION DEFEAT.—Grant has again been snubbed by the Senate. His favorite San Domingo treaty came up in that body on Thursday last, and was rejected—yeas 28 to nays 28, a two third vote being required to secure its ratification.

It is said that the President, confident of a different result, was greatly mortified at the failure of this "big scheme." He has, however, his own party to blame.

THERE is great excitement among the working men of the east on the subject of the introduction of the servile labor of the Chinese. Meetings have been held by the trades unions of Boston, New York and Albany, at which speeches were made and resolutions adopted, fully [illegible] the attempt to substitute Asiatic for American labor. Congress came in for a liberal share of denunciation for its failure to legislate for the prohibition of contracts for the importation of coolies.

IDAHO has gone Democratic, electing Samuel Merritt delegate to Congress by a majority of from eight to nine hundred! Every county in the Territory heard from gives handsome majorities on the general ticket, with the exception of the Mormon county of Oneida, where there is said to be a tie vote. All the county officers elected, with a few scattering exceptions, are Democrats. This is another evidence of the unpopularity of the Fifteenth Amendment, and that the rule of the Radicals is nearing its end.

GEORGIA IN, GEORGIA OUT.—Georgia was in the Union when her electoral vote was counted. She was out when afterwards she began to exercise jurisdiction as a State. She is out now—has no representation in either branch of Congress—and is under the rule of a military satrap. And yet she is in the Union to allow President Grant to select an excellent citizen to fill the office of Attorney General, and in the Union as recognized by the Senate when the nomination of Mr. Akerman of the State of Georgia, was confirmed by unanimous vote.

"WASTE no time in the discussion of dead issues" is the suggestion of the Senators and Representatives in their address to the Democrats and Conservatives of the country. Our Radical friends interpret this to mean that the Democracy are advised to treat the fifteenth amendment, inaugurating negro equality and negro suffrage, as among the dead issues. Just here is their mistake. Democrats understand it in no such sense. On the contrary, we look upon these questions as the livest issues now before the public, and the only dead thing connected with them will be the Radical party.

THE OUTLOOK.—The Albany Argus believes that with anything like determined action the Democracy are entitled to and can easily carry all of the following named States: New Hampshire, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, California and Oregon.

These States cast [illegible] electoral votes, or over two thirds of the whole number in the Electoral College. They elect 171 members of Congress, about two thirds of whom should be Democrats. These, with the members elected in more doubtful and Republican States, would give us a large majority in the House of Representatives.

THERE is trouble in the Radical wigwam in New York. President Grant has removed Moses H. Grinnell from the Collectorship of Customs, and appointed Thomas Murphy thereto. Other changes have been made, from Naval Officer down. The new appointees are anti-Fenton. A tremendous effort is being made by Fenton and his friends to prevent their confirmation by the Senate, and it may succeed. The New York Times is especially outspoken and threatening. It says President Grant's great quality of determination will not serve him as well in "statesmanship" as it did in the field, and concludes:

"President Grant has made up his mind, and that process seems sometimes to exclude the ordinary operation of reasoning upon the understanding. But there are few public men who could afford to repeat experiments of this kind. If the President is resolved to habitually spurn the advice of his impartial supporters—supporters who have nothing to ask from him and nothing to expect—he must not be surprised if in the end he finds himself standing alone."

A CHANGE COMING.

We are glad to see indications that assure those who have truly the welfare of the country at heart, that the honest, toiling masses are beginning to regard a change of rulers a necessity. They are beginning to consider that any change must be for the better. They have had their fill of taxation, of political rottenness, fraud and corruption. They have given the Radical party a fair trial. For nearly ten years the Radical party has had the control of Government affairs, and what has been the result? Negro suffrage, a negro in the United States Senate, and poverty and degradation for the white laboring man! We see a country whose industrial interests are paralyzed, whose people are taxed to the topmost notch, and whose varied products are cheapened by unwise legislation. We see the dominant party crowning each successive infamy with others more excessive in monstrosity. The people elect representatives to Congress and the Radical majority refuse to admit them. States form constitutions in accordance with the Federal constitution, and Radical [illegible] renders them inoperative by Congressional legislation. States are declared by that body in the Union to-day, and out of the Union to-morrow; one class of men are enfranchised and another disfranchised at the next; monopolies are massed into formidable bodies by the party in power, while the resources of the masses are cut off; class legislation rides with military pomp, booted and spurred over the industrial classes without as much as saying "with your permission, sir?" Well may the masses exclaim "Any change must be for the better."

WHAT A REPUBLICAN SAYS OF PRESIDENT GRANT.

Charles A. Dana, who was Assistant Secretary of War during a portion of the Lincoln reign, and who is now the editor of the New York Sun, one of the leading Republican papers in the country, speaks as follows of our imbecile President. The portrait is "drawn to nature," if not complimentary.

Towards Gen. Grant as President we confess that we cherish a very profound feeling of disappointment and dissatisfaction. There were few men in the country who had taken more stock in him than we had. During the war, when he was digging canals at Vicksburg and was on the point of being relieved from his command, Mr. Dana did what he could to have him retained at the head of the army in the Mississippi Valley, and the effort was successful. But for his agency Grant could then have been sent back to Galena, and in that case he could neither have become Commander-in-Chief of the Army nor President of the United States.

Next, when he was a candidate for the Presidency, we did what we could to secure for him the nomination of the Republican National Convention, and then we helped to elect him by the votes of a majority of the American people. All this we did simply because we thought it best for the country, and we had a mind [illegible] Grant was an honest, sensible, disinterested, and patriotic administration of his office. Does anybody think that was too much to expect of him.

But instead of this, his administration has been foolish, weak, cowardly, corrupt, anti-American, contemptible at home and more contemptible abroad. It is impossible to speak the truth and deny that this is so. It is impossible for an independent journalist anxious to discharge his [illegible] to the people to conceal or deny all these facts, so trivial and so notorious.

The President is incompetent, lazy, neglectful of his duties, and [illegible] prehend them and careless about performing them. He appoints men to office simply because they have made him presents, or are his relations, or because some foolish caprice prompts it. He degrades the country in the eyes of all the world, and stands trembling like a coward for fear of a corrupt and bankrupt power like Spain. The man who saved the nation as a soldier is covering us with shame as a President.

Must we forbear to tell the truth about him because it is unpleasant to him and his satellites? Must we prophesy only smooth things because the fools charge us with personal animosity? We do not so understand our office. In our judgment, if there is any man who has the right to speak the whole truth in this case, to state all the facts, and to urge them upon public attention until the mind of the country is entirely aroused to the subject, that right is ours. Nor is it a light duty; it is a duty.

It is alleged that Mr. Dana wanted the New York Custom House. Bah! What if he did or what if he didn't? Does that affect one way or the other, the great historical truth that Grant's civil administration is a failure—a dreadful, deplorable, shameful failure?

THE NEXT CONGRESS.—The New York Sun, in an article on the Congressional elections, shows that the Democrats will have to retain all the 79 districts they now hold and take 12 districts now held by the Republicans. But there are three of the Democratic districts which it claims the Republicans can carry, in which case the Democrats will have to carry 15 of the now Republican districts. The chances are the Sun thinks that the Democracy will gain 1 member in New Hampshire, 2 in Connecticut, 8 in New York, 1 in New Jersey, 7 in Pennsylvania, 7 in Ohio, 2 at least in Indiana, 1 in Illinois, 1 in Michigan, 1 in Nevada, and 1 in Wisconsin. This would make a gain of [illegible] members in the North and West, and the Democrats are also reasonably certain of securing [illegible] Republican seats in Alabama, Arkansas, Tennessee, West Virginia, Missouri and North Carolina. Summing up, the Sun regards the prospects of the Democracy as exceedingly good for carrying the next House of Representatives.

IT MUST be pleasant for the soldiers to note the character of the appointments made by the National Administration. With but few exceptions they consist in the North of stay at homes and negroes, and in the South of white-washed, red-handed, blood-thirsty rebels, such as Longstreet, Ackerman & Co. Such appointments, North and South, are the rule—not the exception. Read the papers, or just look about you and see who fill the offices. In nine cases out of ten, they are just such. The ravenous office leeches who would not fight, but persisted in shrieking for the war, must be kept straight with the sugar plums. If deprived of them they might rebel, it is feared, and vote with the Democrats. With the soldiers it is taken to be different. They will bear their disappointment meekly. An occasional resolution in Congress to supply them with wooden legs or a loyal parade will keep them all right, whether or not they get the offices. Is it not so?—Carlisle Volunteer.

THE Crawford county Republican wants a return to the delegate system of making nominations. It says the popular vote ruined the Democratic party in that county, its original inventors, and that it will ruin the Republican party if adhered to.

EDITORIAL CONVENTION.

The meeting of Democratic editors of Pennsylvania assembled temporarily in Parlor 1 of the Logan House, Altoona, at eleven o'clock A. M., June 25.

James P. Barr, of the Pittsburg Post, took the chair, when P. Gray Meek, of the Bellefonte Watchman, was chosen Secretary.

After the appointment of certain committees and the transaction of other business not necessary to lay before the public, the Convention adjourned to meet at the City Hall at three o'clock P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Convention reassembled at three o'clock. Mr. Barr being unwell, Mr. Ziegler took the chair. The following gentlemen then answered to their names:

James P. Barr, Post, Pittsburg.
Jos. S. Barr, "
Jacob Ziegler, Herald, Butler.
W. S. Garvin, Free Mercer.
M. M. Pomeroy, Democrat, N. Y.
C. J. Fritcher, "
P. Gray Meek, Watchman, Bellefonte.
J. Kurtz, Reporter, Centre Hall.
J. A. Magee, Dem., N. Bloomfield.
J. Hodgson, Jeffersonian, W. Chester.
Joseph Hemphill, "
T. F. Singiser, Dem., Mechanicsburg.
J. W. Brown, Patriot, Harrisburg.
K. B. Brown, Democrat, Clarion.
W. P. Furey, Gazette, Mauch Chunk.
H. W. B. Leonard, —— "
Daniel Nieman, Sentinel, Easton.
A. M. Gibson, Genius, Uniontown.
W. S. Black, Gazette, New Castle.
C. B. Brockway, Dem., Bloomsburg.
J. Chalfant, Intelligencer, Danville.
C. B. McGinley, Journal, Lewisburg.
J. Irwin Steele, Advocate, Ashland.
H. J. Stahle, Compiler, Gettysburg.
A. Hopkins, Standard, Williamsport.
J. W. Rohrer, Sentinel, Kittanning.
W. H. Eady, Messenger, Waynesburg.
W. D. [illegible], Dem., Johnstown.
J. J. Hoffman, Democrat, Somerset.
O. A. Traugh, Stand., Hollidaysburg.
J. W. Laird, Argus, Greensburg.
W. W. Keenan, Dem., Greensburg.
J. W. McKinney, Sun, Altoona.
D. W. Moore, "
H. A. McPike, Freeman, Ebensburg.
J. S. Corman, Mon., Huntingdon.
W. M. Jackman, Dem., Mifflintown.

The committee on proceedings then made report, in substance as follows:

1st. That this association be recognized as the Democratic Editorial Association of Pennsylvania.

[Permanent officers were then chosen as follows: President, Jacob Ziegler; Vice President, D. H. Nieman; Secretary, P. Gray Meek; Corresponding Secretary, Jos. S. Barr; Treasurer, John Hodgson. A committee on constitution and by-laws to report at a future meeting was then appointed, as follows: Gibson, Moore, Stahle and Barr.]

2d. The primary object of this association shall be unity of action among its members in the promotion of Democratic principles, the furtherance of the interests of the Democratic party and the cultivation of more fraternal feelings among its members.

3d. When new issues arise, about which there is some doubt or difference of opinion as to the course the party ought to pursue, it shall be the duty of the President of this association to call a meeting, to consider the same.

4th. In regard to present issues we recommend that this association or [illegible] That we denounce the manner in which the so-called fifteenth amendment was declared part of the Constitution, and we will labor for its repeal, being opposed to negro suffrage, especially to having it forced on States contrary to the will of the people thereof; opposition to the Chinese labor system, or anything that degrades the dignity of white labor; opposition to corruption wherever found and by whomsoever perpetrated.

The above propositions, after brief discussion, were adopted separately when, on motion,

The Convention adjourned to meet at Bellefonte, at the call of the President.—Altoona Sun.

THE New York World's special says: A great independence mass meeting took place in Montreal on Saturday evening. In the course of a stirring speech, Hon. John Young said that the time had now come for Canada to sever her connection with Great Britain, and become an independent nation. At this announcement the greater part of the vast assembly cheered lustily. He then said that an appeal to England for support in case of an invasion of the Dominion, would be futile. The present Imperial administration had deserted her colonies and [illegible] stepmother to those who had fostered the [illegible] It was therefore folly to think of anything but independence. Other speakers followed in the same strain and the meeting adjourned to Tuesday. The independence movement may be regarded as fairly started in the Dominion.

ONE day last week, says the Bedford Inquirer, as our venerable friend Charles McLaughlin was crossing Bay's mountain near the old Sproat farm, he came in contact with a large black snake, which he managed to cripple, upon which the enraged reptile rapidly advanced toward him with its head about two feet from the ground, mouth open and evidently intending to "go for him" in every ugly manner. Mr. McL. stood his ground until his snakeship came within range of his iron spurred cane, and with a single blow, "laid him low." The snake measured nine feet and a half. Considering that Mr. McLaughlin is eighty seven years of age, and in a crippled state, unable to use his right arm at all, and that he was on the mountain alone without any weapon of defence save his walking stick, we think he had a perilous adventure, and had he missed his aim it would likely have been his last.

A DESTRUCTIVE conflagration visited the north eastern portion of Pittsburg on Tuesday afternoon week. While a violent storm was raging two oil tanks were simultaneously ignited by a single flash of lightning, spreading the burning fluid in every direction, and before it could be arrested six oil refineries were attacked and mostly destroyed, together with the Sharpsburg bridge, and many other buildings in the neighborhood. One man was roasted alive. The loss is estimated at half a million of dollars.

NEGRO BARBARITY.—A party of sixteen or eighteen black fiends, near Portland, Dallas county, Alabama, tied up a little white boy one day last week and deliberately murdered him by whipping him to death. The boy's offence consisted in his having fought and gotten the better of a little black thief who had stolen something from him.

THE Allentown Democrat advertises a number of "Dead Beats," as they are called, men who do not pay their subscription. We have a large number on our books who deserve to be treated in the same way.

BUSINESS was generally suspended throughout the country on the Fourth. There were few large celebrations, however.

GENERAL ITEMS.

—A New York paper says sea bathing is going out of fashion on account of its dangers.

—Two weeks ago, Mr. Charles Hebelling, residing near Franklin, was bitten by a copperhead snake. He died in two hours.

—Anna Dickinson intends hereafter to charge $250 for her lectures.

—The Indians are on the war path in Wyoming Territory.

Local Department.

TOWN COUNTY AND SURROUNDING COUNTIES

Re-Painted.—The front building at the County Prison has been re-painted. The improvement was needed, and the Commissioners deserve credit for having it so well, so handsomely, and so economically done.

The Census.—Girls, hunt up the family bibles and be ready to inform the census takers how old you are. Their sheets will always be open to the inspection of marriageable young men. No fibs will be allowed, unless accompanied by $10 fine.

New.—The Star and Sentinel appeared last week printed on new type, greatly improving its appearance. A new dress rare with the country printer, is a luxury of the highest "type." We should envy our neighbors their "good luck" in this matter, if it were not for the hope that our turn will come too, some day.

Trout.—A small party, mostly from this place, recently caught between two hundred and fifty and three hundred trout in one day in Cameron county, this State, near the head waters of the Sinnemahoning. With a previous knowledge of the (wild) country and an earlier start in the morning, the catch would have been still larger—probably double these figures.

More Fish.—Smith, of the Lancaster Intelligencer, Duncan, of the Chambersburg Spirit, and several others, returned recently from a ten days' excursion after trout in the streams among the wilds of West Virginia. They caught about 1,800 fish. Not bad, the youth and inexperience of the party considered.

Enterprise.—It is said that a number of gentlemen of this place talk of putting up an establishment for the manufacture of implements of various kinds, agricultural and otherwise, contiguous to the Gettysburg Forge.—Such an enterprise, besides paying its owners, would afford work to a large number of people, invite population and spread and improve the town. A consummation to be wished, devoutly.

Call.—Rev. J. S. Foulk, formerly of Shippensburg, but now of Baltimore, has been tendered a call to the pastorate of the Reformed Church of Carlisle.

The Greencastle Echo says: "Rev. Dr. Moses Kieffer preached a trial sermon in the Reformed Church on Sunday. It is possible he will receive a call from the congregation."

Sold.—On the 2d ult., Mr. E. A. Lakenrode sold, at public sale, his Warehouse and 17 acres of land, on the line of the Gettysburg Railroad, known as "Granite Station," for $2,925—Abraham Hoke purchaser.

Mr. J. Logan Kennedy has purchased of Mr. William Rupert, the Washington House at Chambersburg, for $11,000. Mr. Rupert takes Mr. Logan's farm at $11,000.

Prep Department.—Rev. S. Seatman has accepted the position of Superintendent of the Preparatory Department of Pennsylvania College, and will enter upon its duties next session. He is to reside in the building, have the control and supervision of the students, as well as their boarding and lodging, conduct the religious exercises, and fill the position of Pater Familias. Prof. Ehrehart's resignation will take effect at the close of the collegiate year.

Episcopal Services.—Religious services according to the usages of the Protestant Episcopal Church, will be conducted by Rev. Charles S. Fischer, of Philadelphia, in the Court house, on Sunday next (the 10th instant) at 10 A. M. and 4 P. M.

Episcopal services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Francis J. Clerc, of [illegible] Asylum, West Philadelphia, in the Court house, last Sunday morning and afternoon. The attendance was not so large in the morning, but in the afternoon the spacious court room was crowded.

Sad Case.—Professor S. J. Koontz, of York Springs, this county, died of mania a potu, in the Dauphin county prison, on Wednesday week. Nothing had been spared in his education, but all to no purpose—he fell an early victim to strong drink.

To correct an error into which many of our cotemporaries have fallen, it is proper to state that Mr. Koontz never held a Professorship in the College at this place. He taught elocution we believe, at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, last winter.

Tall.—Mr. B. F. Hagemann, of Mountpleasant township, sends to our office several tall stalks of oats, each 5 feet 2 inches long.

Mr. U. M. Appler, of Mountjoy, follows with a stalk 5 feet 4 inches and having upon it 146 perfect grains.

Mr. Calvin G. Heagy, of Freedom township, comes in with one 5 feet 8 inches.

And Mr. John Rahn, of Conowago township, contributes two stalks each 6 feet long and each counting 1[illegible]9 grains.

Mr. George J. Bishop, of Cumberland township, sends us a timothy stalk measuring 6 feet ¾ inch.

Fruit.—The fruit crop will not be much in this region. Apples and peaches have been falling from the trees for some time, and now comparatively few are left.

The Wilmington (Del.) Commercial states that the peach growers are refusing now to contract to deliver peaches on the railroad at $1 a basket for the coming season, believing that the crop will not be more than half as large as that of last year.

It is said, however, that in the neighborhood of Albany and Troy, New York, the apple crop will be larger than it has been for twenty years. The trees are loaded down with fruit of the most promising appearance.

The Fourth.—There was no general celebration of our National Anniversary here. The day was ushered in by the ringing of the church bells, firing by the Zouaves, and music by the Band.

Private picnics were numerous—some to the neighboring streams and others to the mountain. So far as we have learned, all enjoyed themselves well.

The juveniles were happy with fire crackers, torpedoes, &c., throughout the day, whilst rockets became the rage with older people after dark.

There was a large gathering at the Springs, to witness a variety of out-door sports, and in the evening fire works and an illumination of the Hotel added no little to the interest of the scene. It must have been a lively and pleasant time.

"Old Papers."—Our neighbor David McCreary, Esq., hands us several copies of the Compiler printed in 1827, recently sent him by Mr. Samuel L. Hibben, of Hillsdale, Ohio. The paper was then about one third its present size, but published at the same price as now—"two dollars per volume of fifty two numbers, payable half yearly in advance." In the number of August 1st it is announced that "a son of John Rudisill, of the vicinity of Hanover, aged about 2 years, fell into a well and was drowned." Also that "the newspapers from all parts of our country concur in stating that the crops of grain and grass, generally, were excellent, and put up in good condition, and that the fears, in the spring, of the destruction by the fly, &c., were greatly exaggerated." These two articles constitute the original matter in the number, but it is interesting throughout nevertheless.

Among the advertisements we find the "Huntertown Volunteers" ordered to parade at Bonaughtown—A. Vandike, O. S., and the "Columbian Guards" at the house of Wm. Yeatts in Menallen township—Wm. F. [illegible], O. S. A trial list of eighteen cases is published, as well as a court proclamation by F. C. Miller, Sheriff. George Gilbert advertises "Post Coaches, Carriages, Gigs, Barouches, &c."; George Arnold "fresh and seasonable Goods"; Wm. F. Camp "auction bargains in dry goods, &c."; and Wm. N. Irvin the practice of law in the several courts of Adams county, "office and residence in the third house below the Indian King Inn, West York street." These are the only business advertisements. Alexander Caldwell, as Executor, offers the personal property of Samuel Smith, Esq., deceased, in Mountpleasant township. George Welsh, Prothonotary, announces the receipt of "The Laws." Samuel R. Smith "discoverer and sole proprietor" of a cure for "Rheumatic Pains," makes known that "the medicine can be had at the Apothecary Shop of John Hersh, Jr., Post Master," and that "the subscriber's name in future will appear on the seal of each bottle in Roman characters." A Camp Meeting in land of John Brinkerhoff, Esq., about 4 miles from Gettysburg, under the direction of Rev. John [illegible], P. E., is also announced, and all Christians and well disposed people invited. "But this timely notice is given, that the law will be put in force against traffic—as we do not intend the place to be dedicated to the worship of God shall be made a place of merchandise." Then follow cards to the "Citizens," "Voters," "Electors," and "Independent Electors" of Adams county, by Reuben Gilbert, Charles F. Keener, Samuel Shriver, Philip Heagy, David Diehl, Samuel White, James A. Thompson and William S. Cobean, all willing to serve the public in the capacity of Sheriff "with fidelity and impartiality." This closes the advertisements—and our present notice of "Old Papers."

Commencement.—The annual commencement at Mt. St. Mary's College, near Emmittsburg, Md., took place on the 29th ult., and was largely attended. The exercises, we are informed, were of a highly interesting character throughout, reflecting creditably upon the graduating class and the institution. The programme embraced—Speech, "Monasticism and Civilization," by Reginald W. Jenkins, Baltimore; Speech, "Sir Thomas Moore," by Edward M. Reilly, Newark, N. J.; Poem, "The Flight of the Earls," by Richard Malone, Lancaster, Pa.; Speech, "The Aptitudes of the Soul," by Thomas J. McLoghlin, Pittsburg, Pa.; Speech, "Modern Liberty," by James A. McHenry, Cumberland, Md.; Valedictory, by R. W. Jenkins, Baltimore. These efforts were severally received with warm applause.

As to the music, its high character will be understood when we state that it was under the direction of Professor Henry Dielman. The distribution of a large number of premiums was especially interesting to the recipients and their many fair friends.

The next session of the College will begin on the 25th of August. The catalogue for the present year embraces 12[illegible] students in the different classes, besides 28 in the Theological Department. Prospects very encouraging for next session.

The Commencement or Distribution at St. Joseph's, occurred as usual on the day following. The attendance was also large, every foot of sitting or standing room being occupied, and the performances of the young ladies were greatly admired.

Degrees Conferred.—At the College Commencement here on Thursday of last week, the degree of A. B. was conferred on the members of the graduating class, and that of A. M. on the class of 1867, viz: Rev. C. S. Albert, Germantown; J. H. Brown, Gettysburg; Rev. C. J. Cooper, Philadelphia; J. R. Coster, Chicago; R. J. Fisher, Chicago; L. F. Garver, Chambersburg; Hart Gilbert, Catasauqua; M. W. Jacobs, Gettysburg; Rev. D. K. Kepner, Philadelphia; Rev. W. E. Parson, Washington, D. C.; S. P. Sadtler, Lutherville, Md.; B. C. Snyder, Catasauqua; J. J. Weaver, Uniontown, Md.

The honorary degree of A. M. was conferred on R. Clay Hamersly, Esq., Catasauqua; Rev. H. [illegible] Shindle, Perryville, Pa., and Rev. N. Wert, Palatine Bridge, New York.

Normal School.—The Gettysburg Normal School, under charge of J. H. Wert, County Superintendent, closed the spring session on the 28th ult. On the succeeding evening the final meeting of the Normal Literary Society was held, the exercises consisting of select readings by Mr. Wert, Miss Alice McGavern, of York Springs, Misses Eva Shillenn and Lizzie Weidich, of Gettysburg, Wm. A. Currens, of Two Taverns, Gilbert H. Weigle, of Mechanicstown, Md., and Solomon Flemming, of Gettysburg. Essays on educational topics were read by Miss Flora M. Hartzell, Wm. A. Currens, Miss Sophie Conover, Hanson D. Harner, and Miss Lizzie Essig. After recess, a number of speeches were made, one by the Superintendent upon the duties and responsibilities of the teacher's profession. Upon the conclusion of the regular exercises, Mr. Wert was made the recipient of a present from his scholars of an elegant caster, a set of spoons, butter knife, &c., Miss Essig and Mr. Harner making presentation speeches and Mr. W. replying. Fifty pupils were enrolled during the last session. The next will commence August 1st, and continue two months.

Appointed.—S. B. Row, Esq., has been appointed Town Councilman—to fill the vacancy occasioned by the removal of W. F. Baker. We think Mr. Row knows where reform in borough affairs is needed, and that he will address himself earnestly to the task of bringing it about.

Death of Edward Shower, Esq.—We regret to record the death of Edward Shower, Esq., which occurred suddenly, at his residence, in Carlisle, on the 11th ult. He had been ill for several weeks, but no serious results were feared. The evening previous he was at his store until 8 o'clock, the usual hour for closing. Upon reaching home, his family noticed that he was quite ill, and sent for a physician. Nothing, however, could be done for him, his complaint being disease of the heart, and next morning he breathed his last. He was in the seventy-third year of his age.

Mr. Shower, during a long and active life, enjoyed the respect and esteem of his fellow citizens to no limited extent. Honest in all his opinions, he was noted for the firmness with which he adhered to them and the frankness with which he expressed them. Nurtured in the Democratic faith, its principles always found in him a fearless and able advocate. We deplore his loss not only as a citizen and friend, but also as a steadfast adherent of constitutional government.

Mr. Shower removed from this place to Carlisle in 1832 and resided there up to the day of his death. There are many in this community who sorrow with those nearest and dearest to him.

Frederick and Pennsylvania Line.—The City Council of Frederick, Md., passed an ordinance recently in favor of the endorsement of the bonds of the Frederick and Pennsylvania Line Railroad, to the amount of $50,000. The Frederick Herald has the following on the subject:

Certain parties, we learn, intend applying for an injunction to restrain the corporate authorities from endorsing any more of these bonds. What the effect of this injunction, if it is carried into effect, will be seems in the opinion of many persons to be doubtful. We favor the construction of a railroad from Frederick, and do not care if it be built by private subscription or by our corporate authorities, provided the road be built. That is the main point. If the parties now constructing the road can build it let them go ahead, but if they cannot, let them yield to those who can. A slight increase in taxation for the purpose of building the road, if the road is to be built, will be cheerfully borne. But good evidence should be given that the road will be built before the money is demanded, the payment of which will eventually fall upon the tax-payers. Under every and all circumstances, let us have the road. Do not let us live in seclusion the balance of our days, but make some movements forward to add to the advancement and prosperity of our city.

Base Ball at Monterey.—A game of Base Ball was played at Monterey Springs, on the Fourth, by the first Nine of the Gettysburg Club and the "Leather-legs" of Waynesboro. There were seven innings with the following result:

	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th	7th
Gettysburg	11	1	1	10	3	11	11
Waynesboro	3	1	[illegible]	1	8	1	1

Runs, Gettysburg [illegible]; Waynesboro [illegible]. Outs, Gettysburg 21; Waynesboro 21. Fly catches, Gettysburg 8; Waynesboro 11. Umpire, M. [illegible]. Scorers, Gettysburg, [illegible]; Waynesboro, D. S. Smith.

It is probable that the return game between these two Clubs will be played at Gettysburg some time soon.

All correspondence for the Gettysburg Club is to be directed to H. D. Scott, Secretary, we are requested to say.

Base Ball at New Oxford.—Saturday last was a lively Base Ball day at New Oxford. The "Keystone Club" of York, had challenged the "Little Brown Jug Club," of New Oxford, for a match game, but the bad weather, it was supposed, would prevent the Yorkers from coming. They were on hand however, before 9 o'clock in the morning, in lively spirits, expecting to have an easy thing of it, as they stated that they had played 28 match games and won all. The Oxford boys soon gathered and put their ground in as good order as was possible. At 11 o'clock the game began, with the Yorkers at the bat. Two innings were played before dinner, the Yorkers leading with 5 ahead. At 1 o'clock the play was resumed, the Keystone scoring 1 and the Oxford boys 7 on the third inning—and in about the same proportion to the end, the Oxford boys doing some very heavy batting. The following is a summary of the game: Keystone Outs 27, Runs 29; Little Brown Jug Outs 27, Runs 10; Keystone Fly catches, 3; Little Brown Jug 8. Keystone Double plays 1; Little Brown Jug, 3. Umpire W. A. Himes. This match was for a base ball.

On the Fourth the "Little Brown Jug" were to play a game with the "Pastimes" of Hanover. But several of the "Pastimes" having seen too much of the "fourth of July" and not in condition for their work, the Oxford boys by advice of citizens, refused to play with them and then the Hanover boys tried to kick up a fight, but after one of their number got knocked down, they started home. The Oxford boys, after the muss, refused to play with them on any terms or any grounds. In the afternoon, they played a game with a picked nine of the citizens, winning easily, scoring 62 to 16. So writes a correspondent "Agility."

Good Shooting.—On the 20th of June (the first day of the shooting season) Messrs. C. L. Meyers, Geo. E. Deardorff, J. W. Gardner and David E. Johns shot 13 woodcock in York Springs district. On Wednesday following, another party composed of Messrs. C. L. Myers and J. W. Gardner, of that district, A. J. Cover, R. D. Culp and David E. Johns, of this place, and R. S. McCreary of Baltimore, bagged 85 woodcock, and next day 31—making 162 in all. The scarcity of this much-prized game considered, we may rate the above as good shooting—and that the birds were good we know, having been among the lucky ones permitted to judge.

Poisoned.—During the last month or two there has been a good deal of sickness in the neighborhood of Arendtsville, indicating some kind of poison as the exciting cause. Several deaths have been announced, among them Messrs. Henry Lunt, George H. Lunt and John Lady. We understand that it has been traced to Apple-butter, poisoned by the disintegration of the glazing in defectively burned earthen crocks.—Star.

Were these cases sufficiently examined to warrant the assumption of death by poison, as stated? We have our doubts.

Census-Takers.—"Why are not the census takers at work in this county?" is occasionally asked. It seems that Marshal Gregory blundered in not taking his appointees from the several districts into which he had divided the county, and has revoked the appointments with a view to a new arrangement. Who will be counted out in the new deal?

Struck by Lightning.—The house of Mr. Ralph Smith, on the road leading from Funkstown to Mt. Alto Iron Works, was struck by lightning on the 29th ult. The current passed down the chimney and ran along an iron bar to the attic floor, then through the floor to the shoulder of Mr. Albert Miley, who was standing near the window, seriously injuring him. Mrs. Smith and one of her sons were also affected by the shock, but only slightly.

Killed by the Falling of a Bridge.—On Monday, the 13th inst., Mr. William Clady, of Roxbury, formerly of this town, was fishing under the bridge over the Conodoguinet creek at Roxbury. A portion of the bridge gave way and fell down upon him, killing him, it is supposed, almost instantly. Our information is that about two hours passed before his body could be gotten out from under the wreck. Mr. Clady was a young man who worked in this town as a painter some three years ago. He was married but recently.—Chambersburg Spirit.

Visitors.—Admiral Dahlgren, of the U. S. Navy, was at the Springs Hotel, near this place, last week, and intends, we are informed, to return shortly with his family.

Commander Jeffers, of the Navy, and Col. McCarty, formerly of the Army, are now among the visitors at that admirably kept house.

Balloon Ascension.—The Carlisle Herald says that Prof. John A. Light will make a balloon ascension from the Diamond in Chambersburg, on Saturday, July 9th.

Mammoth Egg.—The York papers speak of a mammoth chicken egg exhibited by John M. Briggs. It measured 9 inches one way and 7¾ the other.

The Warm Weather being upon us, those wishing to refresh themselves will do well by calling upon F. H. [illegible] on Chambersburg street and try the celebrated Cream Soda, which cannot be surpassed as a refreshing and healthy beverage. He also has constantly on hand the best Ice Cream in small or large quantities. Festivals furnished at reduced prices. Give us a call, and see for yourselves. July 8. tf

Ten Per Cent. Off Again.—Great Bargains will be sold from now until April, to make room for Spring goods. Samuel Wolf will sell Hats, Caps, Boots and Shoes at greatly reduced prices, lower than any other establishment in this town. Overcoats worth $25 for $16, Overcoats worth $12 for $8, Overcoats worth $8 for $5, Dress Coats worth $18 for $11, Dress Coats worth $15 for $11, Dress Coats worth $12 for $8, Dress Coats worth $10 for $6.50; Dress Coats worth $8 for $6, and good everyday Coats for $2, $3 or $1.50 and $5. Vests at astonishingly low prices. Pants at $1, $2 and $1. Clocks, Watches and Jewelry lower than the lowest. As Sam is determined not to be undersold, do not fail to call at Samson's old corner, northeast corner of the Diamond. tf

By reading Cook's advertisement in another column, you will learn where to buy Cooking Stoves, Tinware, &c., at reduced prices. 3m

Always Ahead.—Capt. Norris is determined not to be outdone by rivals and hence has been brushing up his "Head Quarters," on the corner of the Diamond and Chambersburg street, (Arnold's corner,) where he has on hand the largest and best assortment of Ready made Clothing of all kinds, for Spring and Summer use, ever opened in Gettysburg, and which he is offering at astonishingly low figures. His stock of Straw Hats embraces all styles, qualities and prices. April 29 tf

Lumber.—The attention of Carpenters and Builders is invited to the extensive assortment at the Lumber Yard of Col. C. H. Buehler, on Carlisle st., opposite the Passenger Depot. River and Mountain Pine, Hemlock, Laths, Siding, Joists, Scantling, Shingles, Pickets, Fencing Posts, &c. &c., furnished in any quantity and at lowest rates. tf

Spring and Summer Goods just received. Read Cobean & Cunningham's advertisement and learn where to buy Clothing, Hats, Caps, boots, Shoes, Notions, &c., at reduced prices. Baltimore street, opposite Fahnestock Brothers. April 29 tf

Farmers This Way.—Bigham & Co. are the agents for the Champion and the Buckeye Reapers and Mowers, the best machines now in use. Farmers wishing to get a good machine and one that will give entire satisfaction, should not fail to call on Bigham & Co., at their Warehouse, on North Washington street, Gettysburg. Come one, come all, and see the world renowned machines. tf

Attention, Farmers.—Try the celebrated Patent Elastic Rubber-lined Collars, Saddles and Pads. Warranted to prevent horses from galling and to heal up work horses already galled, if properly fitted, and sore necks and backs if kept clean with cold water and Castile soap, or no pay. For sale by J. W. Cress, manufacturer's agent, Gettysburg, Pa. Sept 17 tf

Grain Cradles.—Greencastle manufacture—decidedly the best in use. Three sizes on hand. Prices reduced. For sale by R. [illegible], tf [illegible] miles south of Gettysburg.

For Sale Cheap.—A good second-hand Falling and Shifting-top Buggy. Inquire at this office. tf

Iron in the Blood.—When the blood is well supplied with its iron element we feel vigorous and full of animation. It is an insufficiency of this vital element that makes us feel weak and low-spirited, in such cases the Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of iron) can supply this deficiency, and its use will invigorate us wonderfully. 1t

For Coughs, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Laryngitis and Consumption in its early stages nothing equals Dr. Pierce's Alterative Extract, or Golden Medical Discovery. It is also a great blood purifier and strength restorer or tonic. Sold by druggists or send three and a quarter dollars to R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y., and get three bottles free of Express charges. 1t

The growth and structure of the human hair, is very plainly set forth in a pamphlet, published by R. P. Hall & Co., Nashua, N. H., proprietors of Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer, for gratuitous distribution. The deservedly high reputation of their preparation has wholly been gained by its merits. Being free from oil and alcohol, it has a healthy action on the scalp, restoring gray hair to its natural color without dying it, cures itching of the scalp, removes and prevents dandruff, and will thicken up the thin locks. Such are the benefits which are conferred upon the consumer. No one should neglect to give it a trial.—Journal & Statesman, Wilmington, Del. 1t

Cure for Consumption.

TRY SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, and SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC. Have been used in my family with the most wonderful success in the cure of Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia. I was given up by my physicians and pronounced by them to be in the last stages of Consumption, and my recovery is regarded by them as wonderful. I was also afflicted with Dyspepsia in its worst form, and was unable to take food of any kind except a little milk toast. I am now using the Seaweed Tonic, and can eat anything I want, and relish my food as well as ever I did in my life. I have gained thirty pounds in flesh since I commenced taking your medicines. I am now in the enjoyment of perfect health, and feel like a new man. I owe my life to your medicines, and feel grateful for the same. Any person wishing to write me will receive a prompt reply. Yours, with respect,

MRS. MARY E. BOWEN,
Formerly of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Dr. SCHENCK is professionally at the Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday. Pamphlets containing a full description of his medicines may be had of druggists.

Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Are purely vegetable, and do not contain a particle of mercury or any mineral substance whatever. They act upon the Liver, and cause it to throw off the bile and impurities which flow from the blood into the stomach and bowels. Hence they are the great remedy for Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Jaundice, Dizziness, Costiveness, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Fever and Ague, Bilious Fever, Chills and Fever, Pain in the Side, Back and Limbs, and all diseases arising from a disordered Liver or Stomach. They are sugar-coated, and perfectly tasteless. One or two pills will generally relieve the most delicate female or child. Full directions accompany each package.

Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup

Is a medicine of extraordinary power in the cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Hemorrhage of the Lungs, Asthma, Pleurisy, Spitting of Blood, Hooping Cough, Croup, Pain in the Breast, Liver Complaint, and all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs leading to Consumption. This medicine must be taken in large and frequent doses, and will be found to loosen the cough, relieve pain, and cure the most distressing case in a few days. It is the great remedy for Consumption, and has cured thousands of apparently hopeless cases. Dr. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is taken with the Pulmonic Syrup and Mandrake Pills in all cases where a tonic is required. It is composed of Seaweed, Burdock, Yellow Dock, Wild Cherry, Hoarhound, Mandrake, Dandelion, Culver's Root, Prickly Ash, Queen's Root, Blue Flag, Stillingia, Iodine, Potassa, &c. It is a beautiful preparation, and is the best blood purifier and tonic ever discovered.

Dr. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, and SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC, are manufactured and sold by DR. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Philadelphia. Price of the Pulmonic Syrup, $1 50 per large bottle or $7 50 per half dozen. The Mandrake Pills, 25 cents per box. The Seaweed Tonic, $1 per bottle or $5 per half dozen.

VALUABLE FARM
AT PRIVATE SALE.

THE undersigned, Executrix of the will of James Fogwell, deceased, hereby offers at private sale, the Farm on which she now resides, belonging to the late James Fogwell, deceased, situated in Reading township, Adams county, Pa., about 11 miles northeast Hampton, Littles from York Springs, and 5½ miles from the Baltimore and Carlisle pike, containing 126 ACRES, more or less. This property is commonly known as the "Old Round Hill Farm." It is mostly of the granite soil, has been heavily limed and manured, and is in a high state of cultivation. There are about 100 Acres of good farming land, and 30 Acres of good timber. The farm is well watered with springs and running water; a never-failing spring and pump of excellent water at the door; a never-failing water supply through the centre of the farm. There is an abundance of FRUIT of all kinds in the property; and a part of the purchase money can remain on mortgage if desired. An excellent quality of IRON ORE has been found on the premises, and the right can be secured if desired.

All persons desirous of purchasing such a farm, are requested to call and examine for themselves. They will find it as represented, certainly and emphatically.

The above property is offered on reasonable terms. Possession will be given on the 1st of April, 1871. Title good and unexceptionable. Persons wishing to view the premises can obtain a key to admit them, by addressing MARY FOGWELL, Executrix,
Hampton, Adams co., Pa.

VALUABLE FARM
AT PRIVATE SALE.

THE undersigned, Executrix of the will of James Fogwell, deceased, hereby offers at private sale, the Farm on which she now resides, belonging to the late James Fogwell, deceased, situated in Reading township, Adams county, Pa., about 11 miles northeast Hampton, Littles from York Springs, and 5½ miles from the Baltimore and Carlisle pike, containing 126 ACRES, more or less. This property is commonly known as the "Old Round Hill Farm." It is mostly of the granite soil, has been heavily limed and manured, and is in a high state of cultivation. There are about 100 Acres of good farming land, and 30 Acres of good timber. The farm is well watered with springs and running water; a never-failing spring and pump of excellent water at the door; a never-failing water supply through the centre of the farm. There is an abundance of FRUIT of all kinds in the property; and a part of the purchase money can remain on mortgage if desired. An excellent quality of IRON ORE has been found on the premises, and the right can be secured if desired.

All persons desirous of purchasing such a farm, are requested to call and examine for themselves. They will find it as represented, certainly and emphatically.

The above property is offered on reasonable terms. Possession will be given on the 1st of April, 1871. Title good and unexceptionable. Persons wishing to view the premises can obtain a key to admit them, by addressing MARY FOGWELL, Executrix,
Hampton, Adams co., Pa.

Important to Farmers!

THE undersigned informs the public in general that he has opened a NEW MANUFACTORY EAST OF BENDERSVILLE, Adams county, Pa., where he is building the celebrated

CHAMPION HORSE RAKE,

Patented May 11, 1869, by Albert Tschop and Jacob Burkholder, which took the FIRST PREMIUM at both the Adams and York County Fairs, over many other Rakes.

This Rake was entirely tried last season, and gave universal satisfaction.

It is the most simple Rake in its construction that has ever been made.

1. It cannot get out of order.
2. It is self-sharpener.
3. Any of ten years can rake with it.
4. It is also a perfect hand-self-dumper.
5. It can easily be taken apart and put in the cars.

It is put up of good and seasoned material and warranted to give satisfaction.

Call and examine my Rake before purchasing elsewhere, as I am determined to sell at low prices.

Special attention given to building

THRESHING MACHINES AND HORSE POWERS,

of the very latest patterns. Farmers wanting Threshing Machines would do well to give me a call and examine my machines, as I have been in the business for the last 10 years, and feel confident of being able to put up first-class work.

THE FALL ELECTIONS.

An Address to the Friends of Constitutional, Economical and Honest Government, by the Democratic Senators and Representatives.

WASHINGTON, June 25, 1870.

The Democratic Senators and members of Congress, in caucus, have agreed upon an address, which was signed and issued, as follows:

To the Friends of the United States, Friends of Constitutional, Economical and Honest Government:

The undersigned beg leave to call your attention to the peculiar importance of the elections which take place this year, and respectfully to submit some suggestions for your consideration. By the State legislatures to be elected nearly one third of the United States Senate will be chosen. Nearly all the members of the next House of Representatives are to be elected next fall. Upon the coming elections, then, depends the question whether the Democratic and Conservative element in the Senate shall be increased, and whether that element shall have a majority in the House of Representatives, and, as a consequence, whether we shall have a constitutional, economical and honest government, or a continuance of revolutionary, extravagant and wasteful partisan rule; whether we shall have general, uniform, just, and constitutional legislation, with reasonable taxation and frugal expenditure, or unconstitutional, partial, unjust, class legislation, with oppressive and unequal taxation and wasteful expenditure.

That we have strong reasons to hope for a favorable result plainly appears. The elections already held clearly show that the tide of reform has set in with a power that cannot be resisted if no blunder be committed by the friends of reform. If they do their duty and act wisely; if they throw off all apathy and act with vigor and steadfastness, there is every reason to hope that their efforts will be rewarded by success. Let there be no dissensions about minor matters, no time lost in the discussion of dead issues, no manifestation of narrow or proscriptive feeling, no sacrifice of the cause to gratify personal ambition or resentment, and let the best men be chosen for candidates, and we may hope to see our country redeemed from misrule.

And in this connection we beg leave to say a word to our fellow citizens of the Southern States. Do not risk the loss of Senators or Representatives by electing men who cannot take the test oath, or who are under the disability imposed by the fourteenth amendment. Whatever may be said as to the validity of that amendment or the test act, you may be assured that Senators elected by the vote of members of the Legislature who are held by the Radicals to be thus disqualified will not be permitted to take their seats, and that members of the House of Representatives thus disqualified will also be excluded. It is the plainest dictate of practical wisdom not to incur any such risks. We hope soon to see the day when all disabilities will be removed, but in the meantime do not, we entreat you, lose the opportunity to strengthen the Democratic and Conservative force in Congress, and the possibility, nay, probability of obtaining a majority in the next House of Representatives, by putting it in the power of our adversaries to overthrow or disregard your elections. Signed,

GETTYSBURG, PENN'A.

THE undersigned would most respectfully inform his numerous friends and the public generally, that he has purchased that long established and well known Hotel, the "Globe Inn," in York street, Gettysburg, and will spare no effort to conduct it in a manner that will not detract from its former high reputation. His table will have the best the markets can afford—his chambers are spacious and comfortable—and he has laid in for his bar a full stock of wines and liquors. There is large stabling attached to the Hotel, which will be attended by attentive ostlers. It will be his constant endeavor to render the fullest satisfaction to his guests, making his house as near a home to them as possible. He asks a share of the public's patronage, determined as he is to deserve a large part of it.—Remember, the "Globe Inn" is in York street, but near the Diamond, or Public Square.

PATENT

REAPER AND MOWER,

AND SELF-RAKER.

THIS machine has met with the most complete success. In every section where it has been introduced, it has taken precedence over those machines which have heretofore stood as first class. It is a perfect self-raker and a superior mower.

A careful examination will convince any one of its superior merits over all others, in simplicity, strength and durability. As a self-raking reaper it has no equal to our knowledge.

The Dodge Rake is attached to no other machine in the United States except to this machine. Built by the Dodge & Stevenson Manufacturing Company, Auburn, New York.

READ THE NOTICE OF THE COMPANY

TO OUR AGENTS.—Having been informed that certain manufacturers in Ohio and elsewhere are building Reapers with Dodge's Self-Rake attached, we ask you to furnish us the names of all persons vending or purchasing such machines, as we have never licensed any person or persons to manufacture said Self-Rake, or any part thereof, and will prosecute to the full extent of the law, all persons manufacturing, selling or using said Self-Rake, except of our own manufacture.

JOHN A. DODGE, Prest.

We have that confidence in this machine that we are willing to let those wanting a machine test it with any other machine they may wish, and keep the one that gives the most satisfaction.

Farmers wanting Droppers attached, can be accommodated.

For the benefit of those wanting machines, we would refer them to a few of those to whom we have sold, viz:

Henry Culp,	Peter Mickley,
John B. Lott,	Wm. Furney,
Jesse D. Newman,	Elisha Penrose,

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

THE reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhoea or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer of the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Ayer's

HAIR VIGOR,

For Restoring GRAY HAIR to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

HAIR DRESSING,

FORNEY'S

Horse & Cattle Powder.

This Preparation has become a great favorite with the people of Adams county—will thoroughly reinvigorate broken down and low spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines. It is a sure preventive of all diseases. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetite, gives a smooth and glossy skin, and transforms the skeleton into a fine looking and spirited horse.

To keepers of Cows this preparation is invaluable. It increases the quantity and improves the quality of the milk and makes the Butter firm and sweet. In fattening Cattle it gives them an appetite, loosens their hides and makes them thrive much faster.

In all diseases of swine this article acts as a specific; by putting from a quarter to half a paper in a barrel of swill, the diseases will be eradicated or entirely prevented. If given in time a certain preventive for Cholera. Price 10 cents per pound paper; 3 for $1.

TO PHYSICIANS.

New York, August 15th, 1868.

Allow me to call your attention to my PREPARATION OF COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU. The component parts are BUCHU, LONG LEAF, CUBEBS, JUNIPER BERRIES.

MODE OF PREPARATION.—Buchu, in vacuo. Juniper Berries, by distillation, form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any now in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle,) leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopoeia, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,
I am, very respectfully,
H. T. HELMBOLD,
Chemist and Druggist of 16 Years' Experience.

From the largest Manufacturing Chemist in the World.]

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

WILLIAM WEIGHTMAN,
Firm of Powers & Weightman, Manufacturing Chemists, Ninth and Brown Streets, Philadelphia.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, for weakness arising from indiscretion. The exhausted powers of Nature which are accompanied by so many alarming symptoms, among which will be found, Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Memory, Wakefulness, Horror of Disease, or Forebodings of Evil; in fact, Universal Lassitude, Prostration, and Inability to enter into the enjoyments of society.

The constitution, once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU, in affections peculiar to Females, is unequaled by any other preparation, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus, and all complaints incident to the sex, or the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH will radically exterminate from the system diseases arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience or exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiva and Mercury, in all these diseases.

USE HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU in all diseases of these organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, "immediate" in action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.

Those suffering from broken-down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that, however slight may be the attack of the above diseases, it is certain to affect the bodily health and mental powers.

All the above diseases require the aid of a Diuretic. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Diuretic.

Sold by Druggists everywhere. PRICE $1 25 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $6 50. Delivered to any address. Describe the symptoms in all communications.

Address H. T. HELMBOLD, Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, N. Y.

NONE ARE GENUINE UNLESS DONE UP in steel-engraved wrapper, with fac-simile of my Chemical Warehouse, and signed

FAHRNEY'S BLOOD SEARCHER,

OR PANACEA.

THIS well known and popular medicine is formerly put up in packages by Dr. Fahrney, near Boonsboro', Md., but is now put up in a liquid form, and is highly commended for all Chronic or long standing Diseases. Hundreds of testimonials could be given, but the following will suffice:

"Dr. P. Fahrney's Blood Searcher or Panacea," is a medicine that we can recommend to those who are afflicted, having used it in our own family and furnished our friends with the article; we can, therefore, from experience say that it is a medicine possessing rare medicinal properties. Being a mild purgative, it is well to keep it always in the family where there are children or those subject to colds or other sickness. It is compounded from medicinal Roots, Leaves, Barks, Seeds and Berries, which are said to be entirely free from poison. We are personally acquainted with the proprietor, who was our family Physician for several years, and we were at one time raised from a bed of affliction under his judicious treatment. Christian Family Companion.

FAHRNEY'S BLOOD SEARCHER. From our personal acquaintance with Dr. P. Fahrney, and from the reputation of the above named medicine in the community where he lives, we can cheerfully recommend it to a fair trial to all who may need a PANACEA for the physical maladies of mortality until the great PANACEA for all diseases shall be found in the leaves of the Tree of Life. Peoples Watchman.

FAMILY

SEWING MACHINES

495 Broadway, New York,

730 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

POINTS OF EXCELLENCE.

Beauty and Elasticity of Stitch.
Perfection and Simplicity of Machinery.
Using both threads directly from the spools.
No fastening of seams by hand and no waste of thread.
Wide range of application without change of adjustment.
The seam retains its beauty and firmness after washing and ironing.
Besides doing all kinds of work done by other Sewing Machines, these Machines execute the most beautiful and permanent Embroidery and ornamental work.

The Highest Premiums at all the Fairs and Exhibitions of the United States and Europe, have been awarded the Grover & Baker Sewing Machines, and the work done by them, wherever exhibited in competition.

The very highest prize, THE CROSS OF THE LEGION OF HONOR, was conferred on the representative of the Grover & Baker Sewing Machines, at the Exposition Universelle, Paris, 1867, thus attesting their great superiority over all other Sewing Machines.

For sale by D. W. ROBISON, Gettysburg.

NOTICE.

THE undersigned, having had 17 years experience as a practical Operator on Sewing Machines, would recommend the Grover & Baker Family Machine as the cheapest and best machine for family use. The simplicity of construction and elasticity of stitch made by these machines are two very important points in their favor. 250,000 of these machines are to-day bearing witness to the truth of our assertions and the demand is steadily increasing.
